

About the Instructor:

Joseph Fjelstad is the founder of Verdant Electronics and co-founder of SiliconPipe with more than 38 years of experience in the field of electronic interconnections. Fjelstad has authored several books on the subject and is a frequent contributor to numerous industry magazines. He also has more than 170 U.S. patents either issued or pending. He is a member of the SMTA, the IPC and Senior member of the IEEE. A recipient of the IPC Presidents Award, he was also recognized in an industry poll as one the most influential persons in the electronics interconnection industry.